Information notice

In line with the principles underlying the legislation aimed at combating so-called Greenwashing*, Beghelli S.p.A. wishes to provide some clarifications, in the interest of maximum clarity and transparency towards its customers, regarding the interpretation of the symbols and names present on the packaging of its products.

Product line brands "Eco led", "Saving" and "Energy Saving":

The commercial names Eco led and Saving have historically identified, since 2013, specific families of Beghelli lighting products. These names were originally introduced to mark the technological transition from old incandescent fixtures to LED technology, characterized by reduced electricity consumption and longer lifespan. The terms "Eco led", "Saving" and "Energy Saving" constitute (historical) commercial product line names and must not be understood as declarations, assertions (claims), or certifications of an environmental nature or impact.

Product line brands "Eco led", "Saving" and "Energy Saving":

The leaf-shaped icon, present on some packaging in the area reserved for disposal instructions, was included solely for the purpose of identifying the section dedicated to packaging recycling instructions, with no other purpose. The presence of this symbol was not intended, nor is it intended, to express or certify any additional environmental, ecological, or performance requirements of the product itself.

Beghelli S.p.A. confirms its commitment to ensuring maximum clarity and accuracy of the information provided to its customers.
